

Abstract:

The present invention relates to the use of a cellulosic staple fibre of the Lyocell type having a value of the ratio between titre (in dtex) and cutting length (in mm) of 0.10 or more as a filling fibre for blankets, cushions, pillows, mattresses or fleeces for upholstered furniture.